

/ FLEX POV MODULE

Introducing the Flex POV module for Axon Body 4, an optional accessory designed to provide high-quality visual and audio capture, unlocking point-of-view recording capabilities to enhance situational awareness and informed decision-making.

The Flex POV module features unparalleled image and sound quality, capturing clear, high-resolution footage and crisp audio. This makes it an indispensable tool for anyone who needs to quickly and accurately assess a situation and make informed decisions.

With its compact and lightweight design, the Flex POV module is 30% smaller than Flex 2 and does not require recharging. It can be easily connected with the Axon Body 4 in seconds, ensuring hassle-free switching between point-of-view and traditional camera modes.

The module is perfect for use in challenging environments and situations where point-of-view recording provides a unique and invaluable perspective, such as those experienced by SWAT and firearms teams. It also unlocks flexibility for agencies and organizations by eliminating the need to choose between a point of view or traditional body worn camera. Users can now select the option that makes the most sense for the situation.

KEY FEATURES OF THE FLEX POV MODULE INCLUDE:

/ Compact and Lightweight Design

30% smaller than the previous model and does not require recharging.
